Food in Boarding

The food in boarding is lavish and caters to the needs of all.

A 5-course meal is provided at breakfast, lunch, and dinner. One evening and morning snacks are cherished by many students. The late-night cookie and milk is an all-time favourite.

Students can also request from our chefs personalised meals.

Wellness in Boarding

Our dorm is headed by an incredibly caring group of dorm parents, who ensure students feel loved and supported at all times. They promote a holistic approach to well-being within our boarding house.

The dorm parents are available 24/7 with the students and Advisors are around to guide them as they develop into young adults. The school councillors have an open door policy for all boarding students. During stressful exam week, dorm parents spend more time with each student, engaging in yoga sessions followed by cookies and milk.

Rooms in Boarding

Every room occupies two students and has a joint bathroom. Each floor has common rooms where students can watch TV, catch up with one another or have a quick snack.

Faculty residents live in the same building to ensure 24-hour supervision of students. All common rooms and bedrooms are equipped with the necessities required.

Head to breakfast:

Pile on cereal, fruit, toast, and it's Wednesday? Awesome, bring on the waffles!

8
AM

School Assembly:

My friends and I lead the assembly, and our teacher chimes in with some pretty thought-provoking questions to make sure we're all awake and participating.

9
AM

Geometry:

I'm starting to enjoy math, partly because the teacher is so energetic, partly because I know that tonight before study hall I can stop by and get some of my questions answered so I know what I'm doing with my homework.

Lunchtime!:

The whole school eats together like one big family. It's loud and fun, and I have learned so much about my classmates and teachers while I'm stuffing my face.

PM

English:

My creative writing has really grown. My teacher has surely helped me find my inspiration. I am doing great in my class. Everyone is so supportive and encouraging.

3
PM

Clubs:

This season, I'm in the Entrepreneurship class. Last season it was Journalism. I've never thought of myself as a business-minded person, but I'm doing great in this club. We've developed a load of profit-making ideas and hope to implement them soon in the school community.

Sports:

And for this season in sports, I've enrolled in shooting and swimming. Last season it was boxing. I do love sports but my favorite is swimming, I swim every day, something I couldn't do at home. An hour of swimming and about 30 mins of shooting practice and I feel like I've achieved everything!

PM

Study Time:

Surprisingly I do love this time. It's quiet and I can concentrate. I am going to ask the tutor to help me with my maths and maybe check my essay. I would love to get her suggestions. I am going to further extend my study hours, sit a little longer and complete the group assignments with my friends. It's so sweet of our tutor to get us some cookies and milk while we study.

PM

Dinner Time:

It's world cuisine day! this is my favorite day. The chefs get really creative here. I love the food, I try to start with some soup and have been trying to increase my salad intake.

Time to spend with Friends:

It's free time...my fave! Going to sit with my friends and talk about everything that happened in school today. My friends have become my extended family at school. I feel like I can speak openly about everything to them.

10
PM

Going to Bed:

Going to call mom and dad. Unless my dorm parent is baking cookies. Then I'm totally eating cookies! Goodnight
